"BILL" HOOKS UP WITH THE QUAKER CITY

PHILADELPHIA WINS FIGHT FOR NEXT CONVENTION OF B. P. O. ELKS.

CONVENTION DECIDES TO ADOPT NEW CONSTITUTION—AMENDED RITUALISTIC WORK EXEMPLIFIED.

DENVER, July 18.—The next annual convention of the Elks will be held in Philadelphia. The delegates to the grand lodge decided that today in the Tabor Grand Opera house. The vote for the next convention was made the first order of business. Philadelphia received 495 votes, Baltimore 265. St. Joseph withdrew from the contest.

"Philadelphia has been anticipating this victory and has been planning to entertain her guests in 1907," said Morris Scheck, secretary of the grand lodge reunion committee of Philadelphia. "In my suitcase I have pledges for $75,000 already promised by the citizens and business men for the meeting. We will raise another $75,000, and when the time rolls around for the entertainment of the Elks we will be in great shape to hand out a welcome. But this meeting in Denver has been handled with such great success, we will send some representatives to this city during the meeting of press clubs and learn the details necessary to entertain such a gathering."

The Elks have never met in Philadelphia, though they have been to Baltimore twice. And yet the Philadelphia lodge is No. 2, being second only to New York in age. It was organized thirty-five years ago and the order is only thirty-six years old. Louis Simmons, one of the original members of the Order of Corks, out of which grew the Elks, is a member of the Philadelphia lodge and was on the floor of the convention this morning.

Before the announcement of Philadelphia's victory was made, a delegate yelled "Baltimore wins." This caused consternation. The Baltimore people were wild with delight and a gloom settled over the Philadelphians. But the mistake was soon corrected and the Philadelphia band was brought out and started playing, "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." The Philadelphia crowd got in line behind the band and marched up and down the streets.

The afternoon session of the grand lodge was devoted to revision of the constitution and by-laws.

One of the matters considered was the Elks home at Bedford City, Va. The home has not come up to the expectations of the originators and it is

DEAF AND DUMB [illegible], AN [illegible] PATIENT [illegible] KEEPER [illegible] AND [illegible]

SCRANTON, Pa., July 18.—Ignatz Krewseyp, a deaf and dumb Pole, ran amuck at the Hillside home this afternoon and before he was overpowered had killed two women patients and mortally wounded one of the keepers.

Krewseyp rushed into the doctor's office during the momentary absence of the keeper and seized an amputating knife with a blade ten inches long.

Keeper Davies ran after the maniac and was stabbed through the chest.

Krewseyp then ran upstairs and stabbed and killed two women patients before the knife was knocked from his hand.

KILLED AND ROBBED IN RAILROAD YARDS

That the watchman was murdered and robbed there is no doubt, as his pockets had been emptied of everything of value they had contained and the head of a [illegible] pick was found lying on the other side of the cab, spattered with blood.

ELKS WILL INVADE CITY TONIGHT

BIG RUSH TO PIKE'S PEAK REGION BY REUNION VISITORS.

THOUSANDS HEADED FOR COLORADO SPRINGS TO ENJOY SIGHTS AND ENTERTAINMENT HERE.

Colorado Springs and the Pike's Peak region will be invaded by the Elks in earnest beginning tonight. Fully 95 per cent of the visiting delegates are expected to arrive during the next two days.

For several days they have had possession of Colorado's capital city, but after the big parade today, they will desert the metropolis of the west for the many attractions of this section.

Such is the report coming from Denver. At the headquarters of the Colorado Springs Elks, in the Brown Palace, it was given out last night that fully this percentage of the visiting Elks would start for Colorado Springs today and tomorrow. The same statement was made at Denver Elks headquarters, and from the railroad offices comes a similar story.

It is not known, in actual figures the number of visitors to the national Elks convention, but it has been estimated at between 40,000 and 50,000.

Late last week, Colorado Springs began putting on her purple and white, in honor of the visitors, and in these colors she is still attired, awaiting the arrival of the guests. Some among them stopped off on the way out to the convention and many of these are numbered among those bound this way today. They stayed just long enough to become infatuated with local surroundings, and they are coming back. In fact many are shortening their stay at the capital to spend the longer time in this vicinity.

Among the many things which have been arranged for the Elks here are special sunrise excursions to the summit of Pike's Peak. The first will be given this morning, another tomorrow morning. Street cars, to connect with the train on the Cog road, will be run from this city, starting at 2 a. m.

Because of the early return of the visitors, the Elks club room will be kept open today, contrary to previous arrangements.

The special train over the C. & S. bearing No. 309, will leave this morning promptly at 7:15, and all possible speed will be made, so as to land the party in Denver in ample time for the parade, which [illegible] at 10 a. m. sharp.

LADY CURZON OF KEDLESTON, DIES

WAS WIFE OF FORMER VICEROY OF INDIA AND DAUGHTER OF LATE LEVI Z. LEITER.

LONDON, July 18.—Lady Curzon, of Kedleston, wife of the former viceroy of India, who has been ill for some days, died at 5:46 o'clock this morning. She never quite recovered from her serious illness at Walmer Castle, Kent, in 1904, and the recent hot weather brought on a pronounced attack of general debility. Lady Curzon was Miss Mary Leiter, daughter of the late Levi Z. Leiter, of Chicago.

It was announced at the Curzon residence this evening that the final cause of Lady Curzon's death was heart failure, but she had been suffering from complications which were the sequel of her serious illness of two years ago. The funeral, the date of which has not yet been fixed, will take place at Kedleston.

Lady Curzon was in her own right the [illegible] of $3,000,000. From Chicago, the Leiter family moved to Washington and later traveled extensively and entertained lavishly. During her stay in England, Miss Leiter met George N. Curzon, eldest son of the Rev. Alfred Nathaniel Holden Curzon, fourth Baron Scarsdale. They were married in 1895, after Curzon had held the office of assistant private secretary to the Marquis of Salisbury, under secretary of state for India and under secretary of state for foreign affairs. In 1898 Curzon was created first Baron Curzon of Kedleston and in 1899 was appointed viceroy and governor general of India, which post he resigned in August, 1905, and was succeeded by the Earl of Minto.

Daisy Leiter, one of the sisters of Lady C[illegible] was [illegible] to the Earl of Suffolk and Berkshire, in Washington, [illegible], 1904.

Nancy Leiter, another sister, was [illegible] in Washington, November 29, 1904, to Major C. P. Campbell, of the British army.

Lady Curzon leaves two daughters.

QUIVERING OF EARTH RUINS MANY HOUSES

FIFTY-TWO SHOCKS FELT AT SOCORRO, N. M., SINCE LAST SUNDAY.

PEOPLE FLEE IN TERROR, FEARING EXTINCT VOLCANO WILL BREAK OUT AND DESTROY TOWN.

EL PASO, July 18.—Sorocco, N. M., south of Santa Fe, has been badly damaged by an earthquake. Fifty-two shocks have been felt since Sunday morning.

The court house is wrecked. The buildings of the School of Mines are cracked and nearly every residence in the city is cracked or wrecked. More than two-thirds of them at least are damaged.

The people are fleeing but no one has been killed. The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway has sent box cars to Socorro to take people away and many have already fled to other towns. Huge boulders have jarred down on the railroad track and trains can not enter the town. They stop several miles outside the place.

The water in the hot springs near Socorro has increased several degrees in temperature, and the inhabitants fear that the ancient extinct volcano [illegible] will [illegible] the town will break out and begin spurting lava again.

The people are fleeing without anything, locking up their houses and getting out as soon as they can. The entire surrounding country has felt the shocks.

A cloudburst occurred near Carlsbad, N. M., today and three inches of rain fell in an hour. All streams and canons are overflowing and there will be much damage to crops.

SEVERAL SENSATIONS IN THE HARTJE CASE

PITTSBURG, July 18.—With each succeeding day of the Hartje divorce trial sensations are developing and today was no exception. Misses Ida and Helen Scott were star witnesses today for their sister, Mrs Mary Scott Hartje. Helen's direct examination closed this afternoon when counsel for the libelant introduced several letters said to have been written by her and which prove, according to the counsel for Mr Hartje, that Helen Scott had knowledge of the alleged relations between Mrs. Hartje and Tom Madine. Helen denied the authorship of all these new letters excepting two.

Attorney John Freeman, for Mrs Mary Scott Hartje, the respondent, openly charged the other side with stealing a certain paper from his office. Counsel for Augustus Hartje, the millionaire libelant in the case, declared this charge false and Attorney J. S. Ferguson said he could prove the papers were not taken from Watson and Freeman's office, but were picked up outside that place, where they had been carelessly laid.

Attorneys Freeman and Ferguson became almost [illegible] when the charges of theft were made. The result of the trouble was apparently a victory for Mrs Hartje, as Attorney W. B. Rogers, for the libelant, was compelled to return to Mr Freeman, by order of the court, a paper prepared in Mr. Freeman's office, as well as another letter of Freeman's, which he said had been surreptitiously taken from his office.

WATER FAMINE IN TRINIDAD SERIOUS

CITY IS WITHOUT FIRE PROTECTION AND POOR CARRY WATER FROM STAGNANT POOLS.

TRINIDAD, Colo., July 18.—The second day of the water famine in this city has placed an alarming aspect on the situation. The whole city is without fire protection and water is being sold for 25 cents a bucket. The poor people are forced to carry the dirty and filthy water from stagnant pools in the arroyos.

It will be impossible to secure water before tonight and probably not until tomorrow. The street car company yesterday built a pipe line from a big pond near the city to the power plant and street car service this morning was resumed.

There is but one well in the city from which water for drinking and cooking purposes can be secured. Although no suffering has been reported to the authorities as yet, serious results are feared if relief is not forthcoming in another day. It is probable that water will have to be brought in here from neighboring towns.

The saloons are doing a rushing business as a result of the famine. A large force of men is working night and day in an effort to get the pipe line from the reservoir to the city repaired.

BREWER SAYS CLEAN UP IS TO CONTINUE

NATION IS TIDYING UP QUITE A BIT, SAYS THE SUPREME COURT JUSTICE.

RESULTS WILL [illegible] AND HONESTY WILL [illegible] IN EVERY [illegible] INDUSTRY.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 18.—"There has been a good deal of disturbance in the body politics in the past year and it is likely to continue.

"The nation is engaged in the business of cleaning house. Uncle Sam is disturbing a great many. There are a great many that wish he would not be so particular.

"The truth of it is we have been a long time fixing up our front yards. They make a magnificent showing. We have forgotten that every house has a back yard and have not been as particular about it. We are going to clean the back yards."

These were the words of Justice David J. Brewer of the supreme court of the United States in an address tonight before a large number of life insurance agents who have been holding their annual convention in Milwaukee this week. Continuing Justice Brewer said:

"As a result of the work now going on there will be truth and honesty in every market industry.

"A great many object to what is going on. They say it is disturbing business and interfering with prosperity. It may be that some persons are interfered with in [illegible] temporary embarrassment, but nothing will better build up the country than to give every man, whatever he [illegible] in our market [illegible] to be. In the long run everything will be improved if everything is absolutely [illegible] it ought to be and every man in the country will be profited in the long run.

ROBBERS GET GEMS WORTH OVER $50,000

MAGNIFICENT JEWELS OF GOTHAM MILLIONAIRE'S WIFE ARE STOLEN.

DESCRIPTION OF DIAMOND TREASURES IN DETECTIVE'S HANDS, BUT NO TRACE OF THIEF IS FOUND.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Gems of a size and value which make their description read like a list of loot of a royal treasurehouse, have been stolen, and the detectives of police headquarters are raking the city high and low, seeking to find trace of them.

It was learned tonight that the sufferer in the $50,000 jewel robbery, which is still surrounded with great mystery, is Mrs. Halsey Corwin, wife of a young millionaire of this city. This is the second time Mrs Corwin has been the victim of jewel thieves. Two years ago, at an uptown hotel where she was stopping $30,000 worth of jewels were taken by hotel attaches, but were recovered.

Most magnificent of the pieces of jewelry which are included in the stolen treasures is a stomacher, a girdle of fire, in which only the finest diamonds are set. They [illegible] to six carats. Of this the detectives have a photograph which indicates that the missing jewel piece is one of the world famous collections of perfect gems. There are twenty-five other articles of diamond jewelry in the list of missing gems. These also are set with very large and very fine stones. Four carats is about the smallest of those set as solitaires, and other stones run to six carats and larger.

REFUSE TO SERVE ON MUTUAL BOARD

NEW YORK, July 18.—Four members of the international policy holders' committee of the Mutual and New York Life, who were yesterday included in the new board of trustees nominated by the Mutual Life trustees as "an administration ticket," declined to permit the use of their names in this connection. On their behalf, a protest was forwarded to Otto Kelsey, state superintendent of insurance at Albany, by Samuel Untermyer, counsel to the policy holders' organization.

Among the policy holders' committee are Judge Gray, of Delaware, General Tracey, of this city, Colonel Shook, of Tennessee, and H. N. Higginbotham, of Chicago. All of these gentlemen sent telegrams to Mr Untermyer today declaring that they were nominated without being consulted and without their consent.

Acting for the policy holders organization, Mr Untermyer also sent a protest to Albany today against the manner in which the lists of policy holders in the various insurance companies have been filed. He says the companies have failed to give the proper addresses in many instances and have been guilty of willful eva[illegible]

HYDRO CO. AND CITY SELECT SITE

LOCATION OF NEW RESERVOIR AGREED ON BY BOTH PARTIES.

WILL PREVENT FURTHER WASTE OF CITY WATER. WORK WILL BEGIN AT ONCE.

The first step in the carrying out of the stipulation agreed to by the city of Colorado Springs and the Pike's Peak Hydro-Electric company a month ago was taken yesterday when R. H. Ashworth, city engineer, and George A. Taff, president of the Hydro company selected a site for the 1,000,000-gallon reservoir to be constructed by the Hydro company.

This move is important in that it makes possible the immediate segregation of the water systems of the city and the Hydro company something which the business organizations of the city and the city council have been endeavoring to bring about for the last year. The construction of the reservoir, it is expected, will also be the means of preventing any further waste of water.

The reservoir site selected yesterday is situated in Ruxton park, on Ruxton creek above the Half-Way house. The site is 300 yards from the Cog road tracks.

Mr Taff announced yesterday that work on the reservoir would be begun at once, and completed as soon as possible. The reservoir will be built entirely of concrete, which will insure the purity of the water, and do away with the objection which has been raised on account of the danger of polluting the water while it stands in the reservoir. It is expected that the reservoir will be built in three months' time, and that it will cost $10,000. This expense is to be borne by the Hydro company.

When the reservoir is completed the Hydro company will disconnect its 20-inch main from the city's 14-inch main, and extend its 20-inch main to the reservoir. This will segregate that part of the mountain water system over which there has been so much controversy between the Hydro officers and the city council. This reservoir will be so arranged that any overflow will pass into the city's system, thus preventing any further waste of city water.

While on their inspection trip yesterday, Mr. Taff and Mr. Ashworth also practically agreed upon the location of the new pipe line to be built by the Hydro company as a part of the separation of the two systems.

GUN EXPLODES IN BURNING HOUSE AND SHOOTS [illegible] A [illegible] BRAVE [illegible]

BOISE, Idaho, July 18.—Charles A. Justus and three children of his sister, Mrs. Samuel Moudy, were burned to death at the family homestead four miles east of Middleton, last night.

The parents were in a hospital at Boise, where Mrs Moudy had recently submitted to an operation. Justus remained with the seven children. When the house was found to be on fire, the four older children escaped. Justus went into the burning building to rescue the younger ones, aged three, five and eight years. Soon afterward a shot was heard and neither Justus nor the children were seen alive.

This morning their charred bodies were found in the ruins. Mr. Moudy says that a loaded rifle was kept hanging under the stairs and he believes that the heat caused the gun to explode and shoot Justus. The dead man was 29 years of age.

SALVADOR-GUATEMALA ARMISTICE

PREPARATIONS ALL MADE FOR DISCUSSION OF PEACE TREATY.

AMERICAN CONSUL GENERAL, REPRESENTING SALVADOR IN WASHINGTON.—[illegible] [illegible]

SAN SALVADOR, July 18.—The armistice between Salvador and Honduras on one side and Guatemala on the other began today. A treaty of peace is to be discussed in neutral waters on board the United States cruiser Marblehead.

Saturday afternoon the Guatemalan forces were defeated at Platanar and Metapan with enormous losses.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The Guatemalan minister, Mr. Munoz, is much annoyed by reports from Salvadorean points that Guatemala continued fighting after it had agreed to cease hostilities.

"Such stories are absolutely without foundation," he said today.

President Escalon's special representative, American Consul General Jenkins, has arrived in Washington from San Salvador and has been in consultation with Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, respecting the re-establishment of peace between the hostile Central American republics. Mr Jenkins, though an American official was requested to come to Washington when it appeared that Guatemala was about to invade Salvador in retaliation for the nonobservance of neutrality by that government as incident to the revolution. The state department consented that he should make the trip and on his arrival he has advised the department as to the true state of affairs in Central America. The pith of his statements in this case is understood to be that Guatemala has been for a long time past intent on picking a quarrel with Salvador and has now seized on this pretext for the attack.

There are only two sides to the controversy so far as the world of diplomacy knows, that of Guatemala and that of Salvador. Honduras' interest in the war is secondary, but as an ally of Salvador she has become involved to such a degree that the state department believes the other two [illegible] in the controversy will decide [illegible] Honduras represented on board the [illegible]

TO CLIMB PEAK FOR NEW RECORD

KENTUCKY ATHLETE TO TRY SATURDAY — PERFORMS HAZARDOUS FEAT IN GARDEN OF THE GODS.

In an attempt to break the record for the trip up Pike's Peak and back, L. K. Cameron, a prominent Kentucky athlete, will engage in a race against time up the Cog road Saturday night. The present record for the round trip was made August 3, 1903, by George W. Patterson of New York, and is 4 hours 31 1-2 minutes. The record for the ascent is 2 hours, 21 minutes, made by H. H. Robinson of Colorado Springs on August 18, 1904. Cameron is confident of smashing the existing records.

Cameron is a prominent athlete of the middle west, being a middle and long distance runner of ability. In the Central A. A. U. meet in Chicago last month, he made a strong showing as a member of the winning Chicago Athletic association team, and a week later won the 440 in the Scotch meet.

Yesterday he performed the hazardous and daring feat of climbing the northern rock in the Gateway of the Garden of the Gods to its summit and capturing the flag which had been placed on the hump of the "Kissing Camels."

Cameron, who is a relative of Grand Exalted Ruler R. W. Brown of the Elks, intends to spend another week climbing Colorado mountains.

"BILL" HOOKS UP WITH QUAKER CITY

proposed to convert it into a hospital or infirmary of some kind.

Tonight there was an exemplification of the proposed new ritual. For several years the old ritual underwent almost annual revision and last year at the meeting in Buffalo a committee was appointed to look after the work of getting up a new ritual, and a prize of $1,000 was offered for the work which should be successful of adoption. As a result thirteen new rituals were written and submitted to the committee. The committee then compiled a ritual from the thirteen submitted and the prize money will be distributed among the writers whose rituals enter into the one composed by the committee. Several marked changes in the secret work have been made.

An effort was made to have a constitutional convention called for this fall, but this was voted down and the convention decided to adopt a new constitution at this session. The body went into committee of the whole with J. B. Fisher of Jamestown, N. Y., in the chair. The committee on revision of constitution had the draft of a new constitution ready and by the time adjournment was taken for the day 20 provisions were adopted.

It is sought to build up the order on the lines of an executive, legislative and judicial body. To decrease the size of the grand lodge and make it a representative body the plan is this:

No one will be legislated out and all the grand lodge members remain unless they drop out of the order. Failure to attend the session of the grand lodge four consecutive years will cost the member his life membership. Elected delegates will serve two years, the even numbers electing in even years and the odd numbers in odd years. As the older members die off or drop out the body will gradually become representative.

The grand lodge went on record emphatically against auxiliary bodies of any kind and against insurance features in this connection. The work will be finished tomorrow afternoon after the parade.

HOW AN ADVERTISEMENT SAVED A VALUABLE LIFE

A few years ago a lady who had been in New Mexico and California because she had consumption was on her way east in May of that year when she chanced to pick up a paper that had in it one of our advertisements which was very much like the series that we are running in the daily papers now. She was so much interested in what we said about consumption and the possibility of one living in the east after taking the Shepard treatment for a while that she decided to stop off and investigate our method, and the following is in substance the statement she made. About two years before she had a violent attack of la grippe which reduced her strength and sapped her vitality seriously. A cough and expectoration followed and would not yield to any treatment. Chills and fever and night sweats came along in their regular order and then an examination for baccili confirmed the diagnosis of consumption. She was advised by her physician to go to New Mexico, but her stay there did her very little if any good. As the altitude was too high for her she was advised to go to California. After remaining there more than a year without improvement she decided to return to her home in the east where she could have the comforts of a home life. She was engaged to be married the following November and she would break off the engagement and give up everything. After a careful examination of her case we told her that she was giving up too soon, that while the climate alone had not helped her we believed that with this treatment she might at least be greatly relieved. We advised her to stay one month and if she was satisfied that she was being helped to continue the treatment, and that she could break up her engagement after a fair trial of this treatment as well as at that time. She accepted our advice and as she said made the first noticeable improvement during the month that she had made since her illness began. She remained until September and then went home and was married in November as they had planned. She continued the treatment until she believed that her lungs were perfectly healed. She has fulfilled all the numerous duties of a housekeeper and of society as though she had never had consumption. Now what was the value of that one advertisement to her? Who can by any method estimate it? It was the difference between dying of consumption and living these many years a happy and useful life. Is there any other known method of cure at your command that can do for you what this treatment did for her? This is not an isolated case. Others have gone through similar experiences. Call at the offices in the Barnes Building and investigate this or any other cases reported. Office hours from 10 to 12 a. m. and from 2 to 4 p. m. EXAMINATION AND CONSULTATION FREE.

MOTHER'S WILL IS IGNORED BY THAW

PRISONER RETAINS OBDURATE IN OPPOSING INSANITY PLEA FOR DEFENSE IN MURDER CASE.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The chaotic conditions surrounding the preparation of a defense for Harry Thaw, accused of the murder of Stanford White, were accentuated today and apparently the breach between the prisoner and his mother, Mrs. William Thaw, of Pittsburg, as to the character of the defense is wider than ever today.

Following a conference with Thaw in the Tombs today, at which the mother endeavored to gain the boy's consent to the re-employment of the law firm of Black, Olcott, Gruber and Bonynge, and to consent to a plea of insanity, Clifford J. Hartridge, Thaw's personal counsel, obtained from Justice Blanchard in special term of the supreme court late today, an order directing Judge Olcott's firm to show cause next Friday why they should not turn over to Hartridge all the papers in Thaw's case. Mr. Hartridge based his motion on a petition signed by Thaw which was placed on record in connection with the proceedings.

This move was a distinct surprise, being a contradiction of reports which had gained wide circulation earlier in the day to the effect that Thaw had consented to his mother's plan of action. The rumor that the young man had at last bowed to his mother's will undoubtedly had its origin in the fact that Mrs. William Thaw and Mrs. Harry Thaw, who were in conference with Thaw at the same time today, emerged from the prison arm in arm. It was the first time they had been seen together. Thaw's wife has all along supported him in his demand for a trial on the issues of the case and has opposed the insanity plea. She has thus been arrayed against the elder Mrs. Thaw, who seems to feel that the only hope of saving her son from death in the electric chair is to depend upon a defense of insanity.

LIGHTNING STRIKES CHURCH SPIRE

RAIN PUTS OUT FIRE BEFORE ARRIVAL OF DEPARTMENT. POWER PLANT SHUTS DOWN.

During yesterday's electrical and rain storm, lightning struck the spire of the First Methodist church, on East Boulder street, damaging the structure to the extent of about $50. The fire department was called out, but the rain had extinguished the blaze before their arrival.

The power plant of the Colorado Springs and Interurban railway company was shut down for about 20 minutes, as a precautionary measure, during the severest of the downpour.

Little damage was reported as a result of the storm which was one of the most severe in this section this season.

MILLIONAIRE INTENDED TO WED, BUT DID HE?

NEW YORK, July 18.—Speculation as to whether Alfred Beit, the South African financier and millionaire, who died in London, Monday, left a widow was aroused today by the discovery that in making an application to an American insurance company for insurance on his life in 1890 Mr. Beit names as the beneficiary of his policy, "my intended wife, Elizabeth Bennett Beit."

Whether this stated intention of Mr. Beit was ever carried out was not stated in the statistics furnished to the insurance company. Although 16 years have elapsed since the policies were taken out in favor of Elizabeth Bennett, and during that time Beit has been constantly brought to public notice, yet he has always been regarded as a bachelor.

Plenty of Colorado Springs Readers Have This Experience.

You tax the kidneys overwork them—They can't keep up the continual strain. The back gives out—it aches and aches; Urinary troubles set in. Don't wait longer—take Doan's Kidney Pills.

Colorado Springs people tell you how they act.

F. J. Weber, miner, of 88 E. W[illegible] street, says: "It is over three years ago since I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills through our Colorado Springs paper. They cured our boy, then [illegible], of kidney complaint, from which he had been greatly annoyed for three or four years. He complained of his back aching so much, and he was troubled with urinary weakness. [illegible] that box of Doan's Kidney Pills relieved him so greatly that we followed up the treatment by giving him, I think, four boxes, when a cure was effected. If, during the three years which have gone by, there were any slight symptoms of kidney trouble, they were so unimportant that they were really worth nothing, much less requiring the use of any medicine. I cheerfully re-endorse the statement heretofore given, and advise parents who have children annoyed in this way to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

Plenty more proof like this from Colorado Springs people. Call at D. Y. Butcher Drug Co.'s store and ask what their customers report.

THE PASSING OF PLATT.

FROM NEW YORK comes the report that Senator Platt and former Governor Odell, who hate each other with that cordial, whole-souled hatred peculiar to rival politicians, have formed an alliance to break the influence of President Roosevelt and Governor Higgins in New York politics. It is not a case of hating each other less but of hating Roosevelt and Higgins more. Neither of the ancient enemies can hope to win without the other, so for the moment the old hatchet is buried and a new one is sharpened with which to seek the Presidential and Gubernatorial scalps.

The present generation is compelled to hark back almost to the beginning of its memory to recall the time when politicians who thought they knew, first called Platt a "dead one." More than a quarter-century ago the "Easy Boss" resigned his seat in the Senate as a result of the Blaine-Conkling feud, and it was then predicted that his political career had reached the stage where nothing remained but the last sad rites, but Platt was soon back in the ring. In 1887 he nominated Harrison for the Presidency and Matt. Quay elected him; then Harrison gave both of them nervous prostration by bluntly telling them that he "ascribed his election to Divine Providence."

After that the "Easy Boss" nominated Roosevelt for Governor of New York, not because he liked Roosevelt but because he knew that nobody else could be elected. The Rough Rider treated Platt like an office boy instead of going to him for orders, so, to prevent Roosevelt attaining his ambition of a second term in the Governor's chair, Platt forced the Vice-Presidential nomination on him at Philadelphia in 1900. He felt sure that the troublesome Roosevelt was out of his way for all time to come, for the Vice Presidency has been the grave of political aspirations ever since it was created. But this time Providence actually did enter into the situation, and within six months after his inauguration as Vice President Roosevelt was firmly seated in the Presidential chair, and, like the villain in the play, Platt was "foiled again."

Since the career of the senior Senator from New York has been a succession of disappointments, due to no bad generalship on his part, for Platt is an acknowledge master of the game. Today he is a broken, discredited and dishonored old man, shorn of his power and of what little good name he once possessed, beaten in a hundred hard-fought battles, but still fighting desperately. If the opinions of the New York papers which have intimate knowledge of the situation count for anything he has scarcely a chance of winning. He may hang on for a year or two longer, but his fingers are slipping and in the nature of things his final drop into oblivion can not be long postponed.

The reason for this is that Platt belongs to a school of politics which is rapidly passing away—the school of Tweed and Croker and Quay and Gorman. The other day some writer referred to him as "the last of the bosses," and the phrase will stick. Tweed belonged to an earlier regime; Croker was smart enough to quit politics and the country while there was still a chance; Quay is dead, Gorman is dead and only Platt remains. He has many small-fry imitators but he is the last of the big bosses of the old school. With his death, that school, as a vital factor in American politics, will cease to exist.

Why has this condition come about? Simply through the awakening of public intelligence. The success of a politician of the Platt school depends entirely on the ignorance or stupidity of the people. The politician must fool the people or he can't win. This sort of thing could go on for a generation or two, but it couldn't last forever. The people were sure to wake up some time, and now that time as come. In slang phrase, they have to "be shown." The day is past—forever past, let us hope—when honest and intelligent men and women can be induced to vote for any kind of candidate or measure just because the boss wills it. Organization is a prime necessity and where there is organization there must be a machine; in the first of a few cases also take the lead in political affairs, but hereafter there is a strong probability that the workers will be good instead of bad not because they want to be good but because an awakened public intelligence will compel them to be good. Platt is too hardened a sinner to find it possible to be good, and this explains why he has been overthrown, and also why it will be next to impossible for him to regain his oldtime grip on the Republican party of New York.

EXPERT EVIDENCE.

IN THE PLAY, "The Woman in the Case," in which Blanche Walsh appeared here last season, the hero is wrongfully charged with murder, and his fate seems to depend on the questioning of the authorship of certain incriminating letters. It is suggested that the prosecution may introduce the testimony of handwriting experts to fix the crime on the accused man, and to this his lawyer replies, "Well, if it comes to that I guess we can get about as many handwriting experts as they want."

The audience of this remark—that the value of handwriting experts depends on the number of the "experts" and the amount they are paid,—probably expresses the prevailing opinion on the matter. Time and again it has been shown that expert testimony isn't worth a picayune. Just now an extremely sensational divorce suit is being tried in Pittsburg. The defendant has sworn that she did not write certain letters to the man named as co-respondent; several handwriting experts have testified under oath that the letters are in her writing. Suddenly the defense sprang a surprise in the shape of evidence to show that the woman's husband had entered into a conspiracy with other persons to use letters which were shown to be forged as evidence against the wife. Now the question arises—if some of the letters are proved to be forged, may not all of them be forged? If this contention is proved, as appears highly probable, the whole fabric of expert testimony falls to the ground.

The great trouble with expert testimony, aside from the undeniable possibility of the expert being non-expert, was set forth in a decision of the Maryland Court of Appeals in a will case; in 1901. The court declared that it is natural that there should be a more or less unconscious bias on the part of the expert toward the side that employs him, and as a consequence men of equal intelligence and honesty often arrive at diametrically opposite conclusions from precisely the same premises. For this reason the court expressed the belief that "especial care should be taken by the courts to restrict within the narrowest limits this hazardous species of evidence."

The testimony of sanity experts—alienists—has come to be a regular feature of the trials of men of wealth and position who are accused of murder. It seems to be assumed, by the defense at least, that a rich man who commits murder can not be in his right mind. The case of Harry Thaw is a good example. Within an hour after the killing of White he was surrounded by three or four "eminent alienists," all of whom expressed the opinion that he was perfectly sane. Later, his lawyers put a few more experts at work on him, and now, of course, Thaw is held to be insane. Insanity is to be his plea, and the thing has even gone so far that the New York World boldly asserts that Thaw will never be brought to trial for the killing of White, but that his case will be disposed of by an insanity commission which will commit him to an asylum. If this is done it is safe to predict that when once the charge against him is annulled Thaw's recovery of his reason will be astonishingly rapid and he will be discharged from the asylum—"cured."

In an interview in the Baltimore American a few days ago a leading member of the bar expressed the belief that "the sole legal function of an expert should be to assist the jury by explaining matters of scientific knowledge so that laymen can comprehend. It is a form of testimony which, if it does not enlighten the jury, often results in great evil. No case should be decided solely on the conclusions of experts." Unfortunately, however, the expert is likely to become practically one of the counsel for the side which pays him, with the difference that the jury regards his assertions as final while it regards the arguments of the legal counsel in quite another light.

The French handwriting "experts" who swore that Dreyfus wrote the document on which he was convicted, and which is now declared by the court to have been a forgery, are now emulating the example of Brer Rabbit and "layin' low."

Up to the hour of going to press Mr. J. Ogden Armour had not given out a statement indorsing Upton Sinclair's candidacy for Congress, and it is intimated that Mr. Armour does not even favor a third term for President Roosevelt.

"Every man ought to ask himself, now and then, if he is a fool," says an exchange. Why put one's self to all that trouble when there are so many other people willing, even glad, to impart the desired information?

From Europe comes the important information that the Hon. Nick Longworth is "showing signs of fatigue." If he is not also showing signs of dyspepsia it is not the fault of the people who have been entertaining him.

Jesse James, son of the once famous outlaw, was admitted to the bar in Kansas City the other day. This will enable him to get the money in safer and more genteel fashion that his father did.

Odell and Platt vs. Roosevelt is the latest line-up in New York politics, and as usual it will not be hard for the public to decide where to place its sympathy.

A man named Stonebrake was hauled up in the Washington police court the other day and sentenced to go to the rock pile and do it.

Justice Brewer intimates that the Constitution is in danger. Never mind. Mr. Bryan is hurrying home as fast as he can to protect it.

Senator Beveridge announces that he has always been a strict teetotaler, which proves once more that there's nothing in a name.

Harry Thaw's income is $60,000 a year. Perhaps this explains why his lawyers refused to drop the case when he fired them.

A WONDERFUL OLD MAN.

From the New York World.

If age be measured by the intensity of life as well as its extent, Manuel Garcia, who died in London on Saturday at 101, was one of the marvels of longevity. He did not live the simple life or the sleepy one. He was a traveling opera singer in wild places, a sailor before the mast, a teacher of singing—and no work is more wearing to the nerves—an inventor.

The "leading case" of longevity hereabouts is that of Noah Raby, who spent his last of possibly 115 years at the Middlesex poor farm, New Jersey. But his career was quiet as a mill-pond. To find parallels to Garcia one seeks such cases as Sir Moses Montefiore, who traveled much in danger and discomfort for his coreligionists, yet lived to be a hundred; or Titian, the painter, who died untimely by the plague when in nearly his full strength at 99; or Lory Lyndhurst, who made at 90 an excellent political speech; or the great Michael Angelo, who became architect of St. Peter's, and served eighteen years under four popes, after the bitterest of lives and gigantic labors; or Chevreul, the great physicist, who wrote in his 100th year a scientific treatise.

Of long life among simple scenes no case is more remarkable than that of Khoat Beg, whom Sven Hedin found among the Kirghis at 111. Among his five gray old sons "he sat his saddle with as firm a seat and as proud a bearing as any among them." If he had not an artist's trials or temptations

LIEUT. PIKE'S DIARY

For One Hundred Years Ago Today

Saturday, 19th July—In consequence of the rain, we did not put off until past nine o'clock; my sick men marched on shore. I had some reason to suspect that one of them intended never to join us again. At dinner time the sick man of my boat came on board; I then went on board the other, and we continued to run races all day, and although this boat had hitherto kept behind, yet I arrived at the encamping ground with her nearly half an hour before the other. The current not generally so strong as below. Distance advanced, fourteen miles.

TAKING A VACATION.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The vacation period is well spent if it takes us out of the rut of our usual occupations. It is not well for lawyers to seek lawyers only at the summer hotel. Physicians would do well to abstain from associating with physicians. Shop talk of any kind mars the best-planned outing. If the vacation were managed on strictly scientific principles the city man would avoid crowds and the countryman, who, when he is at home, has to shout loudly to be heard by his nearest neighbor, might do well to seek the crowded resorts. Mr. Tittlebat Titmouse, in Warren's "Ten Thousand a Year," found great delight in occasionally haunting the fashionable thoroughfares of London, where he might enjoy for a brief season "this soft crush and flutter of the aristocracy."

The philosophy of the successful vacation is that it gives us change. The holiday zealot often performs a great deal of the hardest kind of labor under the guise of rest, but the work differs from that exacted and paid for in the workaday world. A child at play exerts himself more laboriously than any wage-earner. The burden of labor would be lightened if men and women could engage in a greater variety of employment. It is the humdrum sameness of the daily task that dispirits the worker. Change is a sort of vacation. Absolute rest may be found in diligent, laborious idleness.

Next to the actual enjoyment of a vacation is reading about it. It was said of a celebrated marine picture that the dash of the waves made the atmosphere of the art gallery in which it was hung seem moist. One can almost feel the ocean spray in the seductive advertisements and descriptive booklets of the summer hotel. Were it not for the cooling breezes that the reporters send from the summer retreats in the mountains the scarcity and high price of ice in the hot city would be a domestic tragedy. A versatile holiday seeker, in imagination, can find an appreciable amount of rest, exhilaration and relaxation in simply hearing the experiences of the bronzed holiday makers who troop homeward at the close of the season.

Whether our vacation be taken at home or afield its success depends upon what one of the philosophers calls our relation to ourselves. "Limitation makes for happiness" is an accepted proverb. That is to say, the more circumscribed the vacation, the more fun is to be gotten out of it. "We are happy in proportion as our range of vision, our sphere of work, our points of contact with the world are restricted." There is no reason why the philosophy, if sound, should not be applied to holidays. For most people the vacation period is necessarily brief. It is comforting to know that it need not be fruitless for that reason. The insect, traveling around on its leaf, may imagine that it is master of a kingdom. A one-day holiday is worth more to some persons, not accustomed to longer respite, than a whole summer of bored laziness is to the professional idler. Here and there exists a conservative individual who boasts that he has not been twenty-five miles from home in his long life. Even one thus firmly rooted to his native soil may have managed to get some amusement out of existence. Happily, vacations, likes the wares in a department store, can be had at almost any price.

THE HUDSON BAY COMPANY.

From the Boston Transcript.

Hudson Bay company's stock of a nominal value of £10 is selling at £86 per share in London and paying a dividend of eighty shillings. It is "a good thing" to have and is apparently pretty closely held. This venerable corporation is now in its 237th year, and many times in the past has been supposed to have reached the zenith of its fortunes. Only seven years ago its shares with a nominal value of £13 did not go above £25, but thenceforward they have kept step with the progress of Canadian development. The company still deals in furs, and does a large general trade, but its great profits are derived from its land sales. Thirty-six years ago it gave up its territorial rights to the Canadian government in consideration of $1,600,000 in cash and the right to claim one-twentieth of the land in any township or district surveyed for settlement in fifty years after 1870. This at the time may not have been deemed a consideration of great value. Canada was very different then from the Canada of today, but that a long-ranging and clear-seeing optimism governed the company in making the agreement is proved by the fact that it is now estimated that the land to which it will be entitled will amount to about 7,000,000 acres. It has already received more than 4,000,000 acres and has disposed of about 1,600,000 acres. Its trading profit last year approximated $950,000, while it netted $1,110,000 from its land department. Its total net profits aggregated $2,060,00.

THE "PEEK-A-BOO" ABUSE.

From the New York Globe.

That feminine contraption the peek-a-boo waist, described as a number of large holes imperfectly surrounded by small threads, is one of the most delectable articles of wearing apparel ever devised by the dressmakers. It has probably tangled more men into the toils of matrimony than the Delia Fox curl, the Marcel wave, or any of the other weapons with which the gentle sex is wont to arm itself when on conquest bent.

Naturally enough most males are prejudiced against this dangerous contrivance. There are, however, certain men in every community deriving financial profit from the peek-a-boo whom personal interest, it might be expected, would blind to its criminal character. Prominent among these interested parties are the clergymen. A not unimportant part of the duties of this profession in a good marrying community—a helpful by-product of their profession—is the wedding fee.

Hence the recent stand taken by a Rochester clergyman shows self-denial: "He has barred all women wearing the diaphanous waists from his church. He has sacrificed his own pocket to a sense of public duty. 'They are worse than bathing suits,' he declared. Two of his flock were recently ordered home 'to put on more clothes.' And yet we hear talk on every side of the commercial spirit of the age, the lowering of ideals, the decline of the true Christian unselfishness! Here at least is a man, proof against the banalities of the period. His advanced position regarding women's waists, the boldness of his stand, the grandeur of his conception of the minister's duty to his parishioners—seeing his true function as a sort of divinely ordained dressmaker to feminine seekers after religious instruction—all these irresistibly indicate that a great vineyard worker has arisen in the land. The peek-a-boo D. D. (from Rushlight) will be heard from again.

THE STORY OF MARY.

I.
Mary had a little lamb;
One day it got the croup;
She sold it to a packing house
It's now canned ox-tail soup.

II.
Mary had to have a pet;
She bought a cunning cow,
Which died of splitting headaches soon—
It's country sausage now.

III.
Mary wept and wept and wept,
And then a piggie got;
The piggie died of tummy ache—
It's boned ham, like as not.

IV.
Mary saw the packers make
A fortune from her pets,
But she could hardly clear enough
On them to pay her debts.

V.
Mary bought an ailing sheep—
She knew it was a sin—
And when it died she promptly called
An undertaker in.

VI.
This precious pair embalmed the sheep
And sold it all for cash.
The folks who bought it of them said:
"What lovely corned beef hash!"

VII.
The undertaker and the girl
Decided then to hitch;
They organized a packing house,
And, gee, but they are rich!

—Charles R. Barnes, in the New York World.

THE MODERN FRAUD MULLER.

(With apologies to John G. Whittier, hoping the Celestial Record won't reprint it and humiliate John.)

Tottie Tittle, on a summer's day,
Raked the meadow sweet with hay.

'Neath her Gainsboro, soft and faint,
Glowed the color that's what it ain't.

Sang the larks from yonder tree;
"Look at the open-work stockin's, gee!

She wore short skirts and a peek-a-boo,
The holes in which the sun shone through,

And the wise old larks they coughed: "Ahem";
For peek-a-boos were new to them!

And whilst they coughed and queried quizzers, Tottie got blue and cried: "O, Scissors!

Things on this dump are slow today;
I wish some fairy would send a jay

Who'd blow himself for a feed and wine—
Skidoo to this hayin'—none for mine!"

Then came the Judge—some fairy sent—
With eyes on the peek-a-boos quite intent.

"Good morning, fair one," said the gay old toff.
(Judges are different on the bench and off.)

And the Judge climbed down from his chestnut horse—
Love-making followed, as a matter of course.

The sun dwelt low at the close of day
When they wandered home thro' the unmown hay.

"Will tell me who thou art?" asked the Judge.
Tottie tittered and said: "Oh, fudge,

I'm one of," and she shook her curls,
"The original Florodora girls."

His judgeship ducked, released her arm,
And fled to his horse in wild alarm:

Nor delayed nor stopped, not even a jot,
Till there were miles between himself and Tot;

Then slid from his horse and murmured he
In mingled fear and gratitude: "Gee!

If my constituency 'd found this out, by hen,
I shiver t' think o' what might have been!"

—John D. Wells, in Buffalo News.

TO HAVE THE BEST LINKS.

Millionaires Have Plan for Greatest Golf Course Ever Known.

From the New York Times.

That the much-talked-of millionaires' golf club will be a realty is clearly shown by the activity which is now being displayed. The money was all subscribed a year ago, but now there is action. Charles B. Macdonald, the promoter of the scheme, who is aided by Walter J. Travis on this side of the water, is now in Europe and has just sent the following circular letter from Paris, a copy of which has been published by Walter J. Travis:

"It may interest you to hear that the project for building a national golf course is being advanced with all possible speed compatible with the necessity of collecting all the opinions of the best golfers in America and Great Britain. Several sites have been considered, and the choice now lies between three localities at varying distances from New York.

"In the meantime I am making it my business to gather together all the requisite data obtainable in Great Britain, so that the national American course, when completed, may combine the best features of the classic links of England and Scotland. It is impossible to settle the distances and the nature of the eighteen holes until the opinions of the best players have been collected and the whole matter thoroughly ventilated in the press of both countries.

"I intend to devote two months to the task of procuring and examining all the data on this side of the Atlantic and shall be able when I return in June to lay before you plans and topographical maps of all the best holes in this country, so that we shall have a large number to choose from and be able to evolve a scheme for the national course which will not only be far superior to anything at present existing in America but will surpass in variety and true golfing quality even the classic links of England and Scotland."

OBJECTED TO MAHORTES.

Her highness the maharanee of Baroda, now sojourning in New York city, complains of being annoyed by reporters. "Why is it the newspapers want to interview me?" she asked. "I have never been so pursued in my life. The things some of them say about me are not true. It really is too bad. I have refused absolutely to be interviewed here because it is distasteful to me, and besides I can not see how my opinions would interest American people. America may be far ahead of India in civilization, but in India we would never make visitors to our country so unhappy by pursuing them as you do here. It may be the way of civilization, but it is the first time in my life I have ever been pursued. I have traveled in Europe and England and never have my slightest movements been so followed by a curious crowd."

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

"TRIP TO THE MOON."

Most Defiant, Dreadful, Dare-Devil Feat Ever Performed. Now With Forepaugh-Sells Circus.

The great Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' circus as enlarged and perfected for the present season incomparatively separates it from all other shows. It is in very truth the greatest assemblage of circus artists ever seen in a single performance before, and the sensational features are more startling than even one's imagination is able to picture. Every civilized part of the world has been searched for arenic novelties by this insatiable firm. With more money at command, a measureless ambition and the encouragement of supreme success, the result of this exploration of the world's civilized area is a marvelous exhibition which mocks at rivalry. One feature alone, called "Salvo's Trip to the Moon," is the most daring and dreadful feat ever achieved by mortal man, and is the most expensive attraction ever offered in a circus program. It makes the familiar loop the loop, gap the gap, and kindred deeds over which much ado has been made look like childhood sensations. A narrow plain as steep as the sheer walls of Niagara starts from the highest point of the stupendous tent, and when almost in touch with the ground upturns sharply and shoots the rider into space like a meteor, pointing skyward. When mid-way in its desperate flight Salvo with arms outstretched covers the abyss which separates the reckless rider from a crescent shaped moon hung high in the air and close to the apex of the tent. It is a terrible leap such as pinches the heart to witness and haunts the memory long after. The precipitous roadway down which the fearless performer plunges makes the heart stop beating with its awful suggestion of tragedy; but when the track ends its narrow turning and the pale, tensely drawn youth shoots into space like the ball from a cannon, with nothing between him and dire death but the powerful energy and faith that lifts his wiry body to the reach of relief that follows involuntarily from the terrified crowds can be heard far away. There is no guiding line for the meteoric wheel to follow in its lightning dash down the steep incline, nor any hidden artifice in the machine to lessen the appalling danger which points to death when the broken track is left. The upward flight of Salvo is the most defiant, dreadful and dare-devil challenge to the laws of gravitation and destiny that was ever conceived by mortal man.

The slightest faltering of nerve or vision in the stoical athlete, or the deviation of a hair's breadth from the mathematical laws that govern and make possible this almost superhuman feat would compel appalling tragedy. It seems incredible that a human being warm and vigorous with life of youth should flaunt his finger in the face of natural laws with such blanching disregard of feeling and consequences. Many sensational acts have been brought to this country from Europe, and they have been referred to as "eight-day wonders," but this deed of Salvo riding to the moon for traits of daring, skill, nerve and wonderful self-control is as far superior, exceptional and fascinating as day differs from night, and gold from mud in worth. This performance is the most sensational, startling and expensive ever imported to America. Are here today.

KEMPTON KOMEDY KO.

S. R. O. greeted the late comer at the Elks Opera house last night, the play presented by the Kempton Komedy Ko. being "Knobs O' Tennessee," a melodrama based on the gay but ever interesting story of the moonshiners and their life in knobs of Tennessee. The play was replete with comedy as well as drama, the large audience applauding vociferously the splendid interpretations of the actors in their various roles.

The specialties between the acts were well received. J. F. Keogh in his comedy work and singing dividing the honors with the public's favorites Baby Rita and fascinating little Marie Russell—Leadville Herald-Democrat.

The date of the opening performance of the Kempton Komedy Ko. at the Opera house here is Friday, July 20. The cast includes Fred C. Molyneux, leading man for several seasons with Charles Frohman's companies, who during his engagement with James O'Neil in "Monte Cristo" played the part of Edmond Dantes more times during the season than did Mr. O'Neil himself. He will be seen in leading parts at every performance during the engagement here. Popular prices will prevail, notwithstanding the productions are especially high-class.

For County Superintendent of Schools —Mrs W H R Stote, Colorado Springs

Following the suggestion made in an editorial in yesterday s Gazette, the first of the candidates for nomination on the Republican ticket for state and county offices yesterday made formal announcement of their candidacy. Besides Senator Arthur Cornforth, whose candidacy for congressman-at-large to succeed Representative Franklin E Brooks was announced two weeks ago, candidates appeared for the positions of district judge, state senator, county commissioner county clerk, county assessor and county superintendent of schools, as above

Now that the ice has been broken, it is expected that others will announce themselves as prospective nominees for the various positions within a short time, as several possible candidates have been named for each of the offices, and the date for the primaries is approaching As yet no candidate has declared himself for the office of state representative, county treasurer, sheriff or coroner. None of the candidates who appeared yesterday are the present incumbents of the offices to which they seek election except Mr Schreiber, who has been filling the unexpired portion of Alex Strachan's term as assessor.

Senator Cornforth has been a member of the upper house of the state assembly for the last four years During the last session he was president pro tem of that body, and for a short time following Lieutenant Governor McDonald's succession to the governorship he was lieutenant-governor

Judge Kerr at present is county judge, to which position he was elected two years ago Previous to his coming to Colorado Springs ten years ago he served on the bench as a county judge in Texas, from 1884 to 1888.

Mr. Stephen, who was a prominent member in the Colorado house of representatives during the last session has served two terms in that body, besides having held several offices in Colorado City.

Mr. Banta has been a resident of northeastern El Paso county for 13 years, being a prominent stockman in Peyton precinct, where he owns a 17,000-acre ranch

Mr Harbaugh has never held public office For the last few years he has been the proprietor of a trunk and saddlery establishment

Mrs Stote has been a member of the board of education of school district No. 11 for the last four years. She was first elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of R C Thayer, and was re-elected in 1903 having still two years to serve.

IS CLAIRVOYANCY A RELIGION?

CITY TO FILE APPEAL ON JUDGE TOOMBS' OPINION THAT LICENSE IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

The city of Colorado Springs will today file in the county court an appeal from the decision of Police Judge A. P. Toombs in the Sampson case City Attorney William C Robinson will file the appeal papers.

Mrs Lucy Sampson was arrested by the police last Friday and charged with practicing clairvoyance without a license. She was tried on the charge Saturday before Police Judge Toombs. After hearing the case, Judge Toombs released Mrs Sampson, giving the opinion that a law taxing persons for the carrying out of their religion was unconstitutional. Mrs Sampson had put up the defense that clairvoyance was her religion

The constitutionality of the city ordinance taxing clairvoyants will now be tested in the county court, before Judge Robert Kerr.

SWINDLED MANY LOCAL MERCHANTS

GIRL OF TWELVE SUMMERS PLAYS REMARKABLE CREDIT GAME—SENT TO STATE REFORMATORY.

A remarkable state of affairs was uncovered in the county juvenile court of this city yesterday during the trial of Tessie Patterson a pretty twelve-year-old Colorado City girl The girl who possesses a peculiar habit of buying things on credit was sentenced to the reform school at Morrison, and will be taken today by Probation Officer W M Reasoner

Last October Officer Reasoner s attention, was called to the fact that an unknown girl had procured a bill of goods from E H Bourn 501 South Tejon street The order for the goods gave a number which proved to be a lot on which there was no house When Mr Bourn questioned the girl about her mother, whose name was signed to the order Tessie said that they were cash customers and formerly lived at a number which was found not to exist When Mr Bourn met the girl on the street a short time later, she ran away from him

In December of last year, Tessie presented an order for a rig to the proprietor of the Columbia Livery stable She was allowed to take it A few days later she received another rig from the stable, saying that she had an allowance in her own right and would call and pay for both in few days Again she gave her residence number in a vacant block

In all Officer Reasoner has found forty firms of Colorado City and Colorado Springs which have been the victims of the girl s fake orders The list includes hardware dealers, grocers, restaurants, bakeries liveries and confectioners

Each order was supposedly signed by the girl s mother, contained a promise to pay within two or three days, stated that the mother was a regular customer of the firm, and contained a fictitious address.

While it appeared during the trial that the girl was a willing party to the plan of getting goods her mother was behind the plot and in a great measure responsible The mother was therefore charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency, and sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail The sentence was suspended pending good behavior

At the same session of court, Emma Howard, 12 years old, was tried and sentenced for incorrigibility Both girls will be taken to Morrison today by Officer Reasoner.

STRATTON ESTATE TAX, $350,000

INDICATIONS THAT STATE WILL RECEIVE THAT AMOUNT WHEN THE CASE IS SETTLED.

Yesterday s proceedings in the Stratton estate inheritance tax case in the county court indicated that the state will receive a tax of fully $350,000. The estate was appraised at $6,307 166 but on account of numerous debts, legacies and pending suits, the executors objected to paying a tax on this amount It has now been definitely settled that the estate will be taxed on more than $5,000,000 of its property This will amount to $285,000, which, with interest, will aggregate $350 000. Appraiser J. A. Elston was yesterday ordered by Judge Robert Kerr to file a report in the county court showing his appraisement. The hearing was continued until next Tuesday.

BIG INFRINGEMENT SUIT IS FILED

INJUNCTION SOUGHT BY COLORADO SPRINGS COMPANY TO PROTECT ITS PATENT RIGHTS.

The Johnson Furnace and Engineering company, organized here a year ago by James F Burns of Colorado Springs has applied to the United States circuit court at Denver for an injunction restraining the Western Furnace company of Denver, from infringing on the plaintiff s patent rights and asking for an accounting of all moneys which the defendant has obtained through the alleged infringement.

The suit is a big one, as it involves thousands of dollars, as the patents are extensively used in the building of locomotives, boilers and machinery. The plaintiff company has secured all the patents secured by Alfred I Johnson on water-cooled grates and furnace and firebox appliances, paying Mr Johnson $12 000 for the rights

In the complaint it is alleged that the Western Furnace company has been infringing on the Johnson patents for some time, and is now doing so in installing furnaces in the Golden Cycle Mining company's property at Cripple Creek

Murat Masterson, of Colorado Springs, and C S Thomas, of Denver are counsel for the plaintiff company

VACATIONS are desirable. There is no need to argue this point with the over-worked American man of business, the blase society belle or the student; all agree that the human machine requires rest and change. So it is that when the green is back in the trees and there is fresh bud and bloom along the roadside, the allurement is to the country, where the tension of civilization may be relaxed a little. Though one may think there is no time to spare, except for counting-house and crowded street, and the varied interests of complex city life, Nature's insistent voices continue to call. A day comes when there is no resisting the appeal. The lawyer leaves his clients, the physician his patients, the laborer his tasks, the mother her family cares, and all go a-fishing, or a-hunting or a-picnicking for a season.

Sensible folk and unwise as well are discovering that it as truly pays to change environment occasionally, as it pays to read the newest book or hear the finest music. Openness to this truth is a form of common-sense. People are learning that a little recreation is not a dangerous thing. The fishing-rod, rifle and kodak—the golf stick, tennis-racquet and bicycle are found to be just as vital as the ledger, the ticker and the typewriter. In fact, the earning of a living is better accomplished by varying the task with simple outdoor pleasures, because these latter reinforce the waste of brain and nerve and give courage for the fight. Hence it is now not so much a question of going away for an outing. Rather, the query is, Where shall I go? Shall it be mountain or sea, forest or lake, east or west, this country or the Continent? Our answer is, "COLORADO, THE VACATION LAND."

Notwithstanding the large number of visitors already in the city, local hotel proprietors make the announcement that they are prepared to care for the Elks and visitors who are coming to this city from Denver, no matter how many thousands there may be.

Reservations in advance are being made by a large number who will arrive today and tomorrow, but whether this has been done or not, all visitors will be taken care of.

Never in the history of Colorado Springs have the hotels made more extensive preparations for entertaining guests in large numbers, and never have accommodations been better or more perfect.

When the announcement was first made that the Elks would hold their national convention in Colorado, extensive preparations were made by local hotel proprietors, and nothing has been omitted which will add to the visitors' comfort or make their stay enjoyable.

What is true of Colorado Springs, in point of hotel accommodations, applies to the towns in this section of the state. All are prepared for the invasion of the Elks and their friends, and ample accommodations are assured for all.

SIX-OUNCE ORE STREAK IN THE PLYMOUTH MINE.

CRIPPLE CREEK, July 18.—Ed Burke, leasing on the southeast corner of the Plymouth Rock of the Stratton estate, on Globe hill, has made a strike of six-ounce ore at a depth of 800 feet. Burke is now installing an electric hoist, and will begin to hoist ore for shipment at an early date. Low grade ore has been going out from this lease to the Ironclad cyanide mill for some time, and the new strike of high grade ore makes it doubly valuable.

Another Dividend Will Be Declared On This Stock December 20, 1906

Two Large Oil Refineries Already Built and Working On the Third One and Will Probably Build "Fuel Alcohol Plant" at Kansas City, Kansas, Where Company Now Owns Fifty-Seven Acre Farm Abutting On the Kansas River.

WHY NOT INVEST SOME OF YOUR IDLE MONEY IN THIS RAPIDLY GROWING MANUFACTURING ENTERPRISE?

135 Miles Main Trunk Pipeline Delivered, and Two-Thirds Completed, Including Five Mammoth Pumping Stations--When Fully Finished Will Be Longest Independent Pipeline in the United States--Will Enable This Company to Deliver Oil by Pipeline and Barges Over Nine Hundred Miles to Ocean Steamers at Very Little Cost, Independent of the Oil Trust Railroads--Nearly a Million Dollars Cash and Ten Thousand Shareholders Are Back of Uncle Sam.

It is generally conceded that the passage of the denatured alcohol bill pulls the fangs of the robber oil trust on the gasoline monopoly, and the Uncle Sam Oil Company will be one of the first to push this "alcohol fuel oil" into practical use. The company already owns a fifty-seven-acre farm only a short distance from the big packing plants of Kansas City, Kas., and as soon as a full report can be had from expert men now at work will undoubtedly commence the building of a plant within fifteen minutes' ride of the main office. With gasoline or its equivalent the independent refiners can drive the trust from the markets of the West. The trust has been and is now discriminating against other localities in order to fill the entire demand in Kansas and adjoining states for gasoline where independent oil is offered. The trust nor no one else can secure enough gasoline to supply the demand, hence they are holding a small footing that they will lose with a fuel alcohol plant to help out Uncle Sam, which can easily reach the greatest potato, cabbage and corn field in like number of miles in the rich "Kaw Valley" close to the land owned ad paid for several months ago for just such a purpose. Uncle Sam Company, with its oil burners and with good show for fuel alcohol, certainly is only following its past course of growing stronger every hour to handle the oil trade of the Central West.

Continues to Keep Its Promises.

Several months ago the Uncle Sam Oil Company promised to declare a dividend on all stock of record on June 20, 1906. This was done, just as promised, and after several weeks of hard work our clerical force is ready to commence mailing these dividends to all stockholders, and the first will be in the mails Tuesday of this week. This dividend is being paid from the earnings of the Cherryvale refinery, Uncle Sam No 1, and with Atchison refinery, Uncle Sam No 2, added to the refining capacity of No. 1, at Cherryvale, and Tulsa refinery, Uncle Sam No. 3, which will open up in August.

Another Dividend.

will be declared on all stock of record December 20, 1906. This dividend will be between $40,000 and $100,000. This company guarantees this dividend to be not less than $40,000, and will very likely pay considerably more. By the time this dividend is paid you will see the principal work of the Uncle Sam Company completed, and it will then be only a question of a short time until the dividends will increase at each dividend period until this stock will gain in solid value to several times the present selling price.

Not Impossible for the Stock to Go to $5.00 Per Share.

It takes more than a million dollars to place a pipe line and refining company where it can successfully meet the great criminal trust, however, the Uncle Sam Company of Kansas will soon have that sum of money back of its great undertaking, besides there will be more than ten thousand shareholders, representing every nook and corner of the land, supporting it and securing their friends to do likewise, while in Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Iowa, Arkansas, Nebraska and Illinois, where the Uncle Sam "Pure Anti-Trust Oil Wagons" will soon patrol the country, the company has stockholders thicker than Democrats in Arkansas. These stockholders will wield an influence and a power that money cannot buy and are an invaluable asset back of the Uncle Sam stock. At every bend of the road you will find impregnable bulwarks being completed to support and protect this great company which spells greater success and certain returns and increased value for every share of the stock you may be able to secure in this anti-trust organization, and there is not a single sane reason why the company keeping pace with its past rapid progress cannot build up to a capacity of eighteen thousand barrels per day, and every barrel of this oil can be marketed in the Missouri Valley states, where the public almost to a man despises the un-American methods of the anarchist oil trust and will rally to independent oil at the first opportunity just as they are doing where Uncle Sam oil has been placed on the market.

It may sound like hot air and look like blue sky to you to talk about an investment that you can buy now if you act with any degree of promptness at 20 cents per share ever becoming worth $5.00 per share. Still we will ask you to figure the profits even on 10,000 barrels of oil per day, even at 50 cents per barrel, and it will come pretty near putting Uncle Sam stock to the five-dollar mark, while the trust is making nearer $3 per barrel and there is no reason why in three years' time the Uncle Sam Company, with its vast acreage of oil lands, its thousands of stockholders to help put it to the front, with a chain of three great refineries, the last one of which will soon be ready to refine oil, with its miles of lateral pipe lines, and the main trunk river pipe line completed, will not grow to where it can refine 18,000 barrels of oil per day and make at least $1 per barrel and treat everyone on the square, too. The company has a better show to do this now than it had in the start to build to where it is today, and one success generally follows another. The facts are, considering an investment in this stock from every standpoint of reason, giving the company credit for what it has accomplished in the past, considering the great odds against it it has had to contend with, you must admit that Uncle Sam stock is a stock of great merit and with a flattering future, and you will make no mistake in securing all you can spare the money to buy at the most reasonable prices, for it will pay you dividends and increase in value while you sleep, and even if it only goes to $1 per share, it would beat 999 investments out of 1,000 in the United States today. One thousand dollar draft or check now will secure 5,000 shares with a par value of $5,000, and such deals are being closed with wise investors almost every day, for Uncle Sam stock is in demand, as can be proven from the books, as over $106,000 was banked in June from the sale of stock and refined oil.

Will Barge Oil to St. Louis and Load for Foreign Trade.

Negotiations are now pending to take the first load of refined oil down the Mississippi river to St. Louis some time in September, where arrangements will be ready to load for a foreign trade. This has been part of the plan of the company from the start. Uncle Sam can save enough on the pipe line and barge deal alone to pay enormous dividends on this stock when all is completed. That is why the company can afford to give you a good buy in the stock. Your money will make it possible for the Uncle Sam Company to complete its great work where it will all be on a big money making basis and return your money many times over in dividends alone in the next few years. It makes no difference where you live, whether it be in Texas, New York, Florida, Oregon, or whether you send in $10 for 50 shares or $1,000 for 5,000 shares, this is a poor man's company, backed by the common people, fighting for a principle as well as financial gain, and you can depend on fair treatment.

Fifteen Thousand People Visited Atchison July 4.

There were people in attendance from all over the United States at the River Refinery opening, Uncle Sam No. 2, at Atchison, July 4. A great many of them were parties looking for a good investment, and they are now picking up the balance of this stock very rapidly. $400 from one party in New York, $400 from another in Illinois and $400 from another in Oklahoma, came in two different mails last week, besides hundreds of other remittances of smaller to larger amounts. One man from Pennsylvania closed a deal of $800 for 4,000 shares on Thursday--and thus it goes. So when you buy this stock you do not pay a cent more than thousands of investors, for the company proposes to complete the river pipe line, install 100 more distributing stations and increase all three refineries and drill more oil wells, and must have capital to do it with, and it is raising the funds from the common people and practically paying as we go, and will be glad to have you for band, now nearly 5,000 strong, for whatever amount you can spare, from $10 to $5,600, and in doing so you will not only secure a great investment, but will help a good cause on to greater success.

What $100,000 More Money Will Do.

In placing your money in any enterprise that promises you great returns it must be in a position to place that money where it can earn the results. One hundred thousand dollars' more cash expended by the Uncle Sam Company will increase the Atchison refinery to where it can refine (1200) twelve hundred barrels of crude oil every twenty-four hours. Will build a paraffine plant at Atchison that will handle the output after the gasoline and kerosene are manufactured and turn it into a score of different by-products, all of which will command a big price and will find a ready market. It will also complete the Tulsa refinery, Uncle Sam No. 3 to (1200) twelve hundred barrels per day, and build a lubricating works that will handle the output of that plant and manufacture it into the different by-products. It will also complete the balance of seventy-five more distributing stations. The output from these two refineries built to the 1,200 barrel capacity, and the paraffine plant and lubricating works together with Cherryvale refiners, Uncle Sam No 1, will be enormous and should total in sales considerable over ($10,000) ten thousand dollars per day. Now, over $106,000 was paid in during the month of June. Do you think for one minute that the company will not raise the other $100,000 and get it during the next few weeks and as far as possible crowd this great work to completion without delay? And don't you see that the company can well afford to sell the balance of the stock left at the low price offered here to you in order to complete this great work? For how long will it take to make it all back with Uncle Sam sales running ($10,000) ten thousand dollars per day or better? Don't wait until that time and even expect to buy the stock at several times the present price.

Over $325,000 Has Been Subscribed at the Same Price Offered You.

Another fact that should appeal to any investor is that this stock has been selling for the past five months at 20 cents per share. During that time refinery No. 2, at Atchison, has been built, besides over seventy miles more of main trunk pipe line, secured, and several great oil wells completed. It cannot be denied but that the stock has increased in solid value 80 to 100 per cent during this five months for every dollar of this entire $325,000 has gone right back of the enterprise, while a great deal of it has been placed where it has doubled in value for the company by reason of certain rich discoveries on the different oil properties belonging to Uncle Sam. However, this company is no stock jobbing scheme. We are not trying to prop up fictitious values, but realize that capital to complete our enterprise is what is absolutely necessary and what the company wants is 20 cents per share, which will do the work, regardless of the fact whether it is worth 40 cents or not, and are willing to let you have the benefit of the increased value if you send in your remittances promptly on the basis offered herein, on which, as before stated, over $325,000 has been subscribed, and the majority of these investors have been on the ground and investigated for themselves, and if this company can meet the rigid requirements and investigation of the many, as it has done, it is certainly self-evident proof that it is safe for you. A $200 check or draft will buy 1,000 shares, if forwarded promptly.

Reasons Why This Stock Is Paying Dividends.

Nine hundred barrels per day will be the refining capacity of the Uncle Sam refineries, commencing this week. By some time in August it will be up to 1,500 barrels per day, and by some time in October or November it will be up to twenty-seven hundred (2,700) barrels per day. Suppose, however, that the company only averages 1,000 barrels per day for the six months ending December 20, 1906, or, in other words, only handles one hundred and eighty thousand (180,000) barrels at a profit of, say, only $1 per barrel, that would make a total profit of $180,000. Now, the company will refine more oil than that, will make bigger profits than $1 per barrel, as it will produce the bigger part of 1,000 barrels per day on the average from its own wells. However, $180,000 would pay nearly 2 per cent on the entire capitalization, or 2 cents per share in six months on stock offered you now at 20 cents per share. The company guarantees a dividend of $40,000, and even though it only pays the $40,000, the balance will go into increased development, and make your stock just that much more valuable.

Certainly a Strong Manufacturing Concern.

With the amount of capital and men and influence that is back of this company now, it certainly can and will force it to the top notch, when, as before stated, the stock may go to $5 per share. It does not look unreasonable when you stop to consider the profit in refining oil. Allow the company $1 per barrel profit, and the total earnings on 18,000 barrels per day would total $6,480,000 yearly, or pay over sixty (60) cents per year on the stock now selling for 20 cents per share. This looks big of course but then that is just the way it counts up and no one can deny it. The only question is, can the company build up to the capacity? And this it can and will do in time. And if you fail to secure some of the stock now and live five years longer you will see where you threw away the opportunity of a lifetime by not joining this strong manufacturing enterprise when it was young and solicited your co-operation in good faith.

Assets Back of the Stock.

The good will of the general public clamoring for anti-trust oil. Two oil refineries built. Third one-half paid for. 1,100-acre lot 43 Osage conceded by conservative men to be worth over $1,000,000. Own or control over thirty thousand (30,000) additional acres of oil and gas rights on which are already developed nearly 100 oil and gas wells, five pumping plants and sufficient storage tanks. About fifty (50) miles of lateral pipe lines. One hundred and thirty-five (135) miles of main trunk pipe line and five pumping stations, over seventy per cent completed, all of which is paid for excepting nine monthly payments of $2,400.00 each on one end of the pipe lines, which a saving in freight will more than pay double. Nineteen main distributing stations in that many principal trade centers in Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma. Thousands of barrels of oil and its by-products in storage. Four complete drilling rigs operating day and night which any day may strike the main pool on Lot 43, at which event this stock would go to several times $1.00 per share. Fourteen tank cars, with nine more being shipped. Over fifty tank wagons delivering oil to the rapidly growing trade. Besides all the above mentioned properties, there is close to seventy thousand dollars ($70,000) subscribed on gilt edge contract stock already allotted from the treasury, besides there is about eight (8) per cent of the stock still unsold which will be placed at 20 cents per share or better. Even at 20 cents with contract stock thus is being paid on every day will give the company close to one-quarter of a million dollars yet to complete the work, while less than one-half of that will place the company, as before stated, where its sales should be ($10,000.00) ten thousand dollars per day or better. Nearly one hundred men are employed in all the different departments of the company. Every man knows his work and the company compelled to meet the demands of the rapidly growing trade and to be where the head men could be close to where the river traffic business will center and where close touch with Omaha, Des Moines, Chicago and St. Louis can be maintained have located.

Main Headquarters at Kansas City, Kan., U. S. A.

On the third floor of the Wyandotte building, where the Uncle Sam management will be glad to meet any prospective investors and give any further information about this rapidly growing enterprise. From this office we will give all parties whom we believe to be in good faith passes that will take them into Cherryvale refinery, Uncle Sam No. 1, which you can reach in five hours' ride from Union depot, Kansas City, south over the southwestern division of the Santa Fe. Also to Atchison refinery, Uncle Sam No 2, which you can reach from Union depot in a little over one hour by Missouri Pacific or Burlington roads, which have a train about every hour during the day. Will also give you a pass into grounds, where workmen are now building Tulsa refinery, Uncle Sam No. 3, which you can reach by Frisco, south, leaving about 1 o'clock at night, with through Pullman, arriving at Tulsa about 6 o'clock in the morning, and can stay there all day and come back to Kansas City next night. While over the 'Katy' road you can leave Union depot, Kansas City, at 2 o'clock in the morning and arrive at the big wells near Bartlesville at 8 o'clock next morning, and thus it goes, we can cite you to where in a few hours ride from Kansas City you can see the vast properties of this company. From a few miles south of Bartlesville the main trunk pipe line commences and you can follow this toward navigation for just one hundred and thirty-five miles and will find the pumping stations and all the pipe line either along the right of way or screwed together, and in less than sixty days this entire length of line will be in use saving the company big money, pumping the oil to the Cherryvale refinery and supplying it, and then on toward the big river refinery, where from the north end of the line the company can tank-car the balance of the way for 25 cents per barrel and owns the tank cars to do the hauling, but expects before the year ends to have the pipe line completed clear through to the banks of navigation.

Write or Wire for Particulars and Pictures.

The company has about eighty pictures taken from real life in the different departments, showing part of the great work; also more complete reports. We will be glad to mail them to any investor in the United States or any foreign country, and any other information desired. We stand ready to prove any statement made herein and solicit your investment in this stock in good faith, and we will see that you will get a square deal in fact as well as in words. The company will not sell over 50,000 shares to any one man and reserves the right to reject any offer by returning the remittance. Would rather have five men subscribe $200 each than one man $1,000, for this company is a common man's organization and wants as large a number of stockholders among the middle class as possible.

FAIL TO AGREE IN PLACER CASE

REGISTER AND RECEIVER [illegible] CONFLICTING DECISIONS AS TO WHETHER GRAVEL IS PLACER.

LEADVILLE, Colo., July 18.—Two conflicting decisions were rendered by the local land office today in the famous Searle placer case. Register Beall decided that the ground in controversy was not placer, while Receiver Hobbs said in his decision that he regarded the ground as placer and capable of being worked as such. The opinions of both register and receiver will be transmitted to Washington and the voluminous evidence in the case for further action by the land department.

The case was sent back to the local land office some months ago for the purpose of ascertaining whether the ground in dispute was of a placer character. For [illegible] days an enormous amount of testimony was secured from witnesses and experts.

STAKE CLAIMS AT ILSE.

CRIPPLE CREEK, July 18.—D. S. Hall, juvenile officer in this city; Mike Burke, [illegible] of the Henry Adney mine, and James Taylor of this city have staked several claims in the new Ilse district, 22 miles southwest of Florence, and are firm in the belief that the new camp is a [illegible].

A TWO-OUNCE ROCK.

CRIPPLE CREEK, July 18.—A car of ore of a two-ounce grade is being shipped from the War Eagle lease of Darnell & [illegible], on Bull hill. Ore is being taken from the big pit which has shipped several hundred tons of ore. It is intended to ship [illegible] grade ore from the War [illegible] to a neighboring cyanide mill.

SILVER ORE NETS $125 TO THE TON

BISMUTH PROPERTY YIELDS SILVER RICHES FROM BIG STREAK AT DEPTH OF FORTY FEET.

SILVER CLIFF, Colo., July 18.—The ore settlement sheet from the last two cars of ore sent the Ohio and Colorado smelter at Salida by Messrs. Stroehlke and Preston, leasing the Bismuth mine here, gives the following encouraging figures:

Lot 1, containing 41,000 pounds, ran 216 ounces silver per ton and 6 per cent lead, and with $10 treatment charge, gave net returns of $125 per ton, or $2,472.48 for the shipment. Lot 2 was low grade material, 22,460 pounds. It ran 18 ounces silver and 1 per cent lead. Net value, $4.50 per ton, or $49.25 for the lot. Lot 3, a medium grade ore, contained 21,800 pounds and carried 54.8 ounces silver and 3 per cent lead, and with a $9.50 treatment returned a net value of $24.37 per ton, or $245.26 for the lot.

Another lot of seven tons shipped individually by Stroehlke ran 72 ounces and returned about $300, making a total for the two cars a little above $3,000 net. And this ore was extracted at a depth not to exceed 40 feet and from two shafts several hundred feet apart, which must prove the continuity of the pay streak, which, properly developed, will yield big returns for an indefinite period.

SPECIMEN AND SACRAMENTO.

CRIPPLE CREEK, July 18.—The Western Investment company today sent out two cars of ore from its lease on the Specimen and one car from the Sacramento, both claims lying on Bull hill and both belonging to the Stratton estate. On an average of 20 cars a month are being shipped from the strike in the Specimen, and the ore shoot has been found to pitch into the Sacramento.

GOLD FOUND BY A WOMAN MINER

SCHOOL TEACHER FINDS VEIN CARRYING FREE GOLD IN THE NEW CUSTER COUNTY CAMP.

FLORENCE, Colo., July 18.—Cheering news continues to arrive from Spaulding, and two good strikes are today's record. The most important is on patented land owned by Mike Chockle. While digging a well he entered a vein that pans $20 a ton in gold. His property adjoins the Horea and Spaulding claims.

Miss Nora Thornton, a school teacher at Ilse, has also made a good strike on the Topeka claim, she being the first woman to enter the district when the excitement started. Her ore pans well and shows free gold.

W. H. Rickey, who made a big strike in Boneyard Park yesterday, left tonight for New York to make a favorable report on the district.

Prospectors returning to Florence tonight report that the resumption of work at the famous Bassick mine is looked for any day. There is a considerable stir at Querida, which town was burned a few weeks ago. Some good ore has been opened in the Little Bernice. The Ben Franklin mine may be leased by an outside party. The Waukema is working three shifts sinking a shaft to reach ore that assays $20 a ton. Manager Bishop of the P. & O. mine has claims on which veins carry 95 per cent fluorspar. The Bessemer steel works is reported to have placed an order with Bishop for 5,000 tons of the rock.

SECURES AN OPTION ON QUEEN OF THE PLAINS

FLORENCE, Colo., July 18.—Mike Burke of Canon City has returned from the gold fields near Ilse and announced that he has secured an option on the Queen of the Plains, one of the most promising prospects there. From four samples taken within ten feet of the surface he received returns varying from $8 to $60, with an average of $22.

He has arranged for the laying out of a townsite on the ranch of Ed Spaulding, close to the district, and will start work at once.

On the Custer property, one mile southeast of the Queen, 15 samples taken from the vein at a depth of 16 feet ran from $12 to $82 in gold to the ton. Men who are supposed to represent the Golden Cycle of Cripple Creek are in the district trying to arrange with the owners for a bond and lease for $45,000.

NEW CLYDE FIELD TO HAVE A MILL

CONTRACTS ARE LET AND EXCAVATION WORK IS UNDER WAY — STRIKE IS A GOOD ONE.

CRIPPLE CREEK, July 18.—The vein encountered by J. D. Spencer and associates, a mile west of Clyde, is seven feet wide and carries values of $35 to the ton the full width. Interested parties have already visited the property and have offered Mr. Spencer and associates $35,000 for the property, but the owners say nothing less than $100,000 will touch it. Mr. Spencer himself is looking after the interests of the company, which is incorporated, but he only owns a small part of the property, capitalists of Colorado Springs being behind the project.

So impressed is the company with the find, which was made in the breast of a 185-foot tunnel, that they have entered into contract for the erection of a mill upon the site. Work of excavation for the foundation has been begun with a large force of men and teams, and the mill will probably be in operation in two or three months' time, the company's aim being to have everything in readiness by the fall months. The strike was made by Mr. Spencer after eight years of prospecting. When the ore was encountered the company was about to give up disgusted.

As a result of the find surrounding territory yet undeveloped is being gone over by old-time prospectors with a view of locating some of the land not held under patent. The erection of the mill probably give new life to that section of the district, practically deserted since the booming of Gillett many years ago.

ELLING ORDERS CHILL ADVANCES

LOSING TONE IN WALL STREET HEAVY—THE MARKET DEPRESSED BY FOREIGN ACCOUNT SELLING.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The appearance in the market of stocks for sale again this morning chilled the halting attempts to get prices higher which have been followed for two days past. The selling was attributed largely to foreign account, and was seemingly based on the new alarm caused by the disorders in Russia. Russian securities were sharply depressed and Paris sold stocks on a large scale in London. The pressure to sell was not continued after the active first hour's trading and the market developed the same passive tendency as for several days past. But the professional trading element seemed to have lost it's recent confidence in bidding up prices to discover vulnerable bear accounts.

Published reports of a broadening scope in the intended movement for the prosecution of the Standard Oil company were given some credit for the heavy tone of the market.

Conditions in the money market were but little changed. The succession of large debit balances by the subtreasury reflects some large extra disbursements on government account, but these are likely to be offset by the final repayment of the $10,000,000 of government deposits due on or before July 20. Payments thus far made at the New York subtreasury on this account amounted to but $2,400,000 including payments made on drafts from interior institutions for the purpose. It is evident, therefore, that the bulk of the repayments is being deferred until the limit of the period allowed. The possible effect on the banking position may have its part in the conservative attitude of today's speculation.

The foreign exchange market was held steady today and money in London was in demand.

Illinois Central sold off on the establishment of it's dividend on a regular seven per cent basis. Room shorts covered to some extent and caused slight recoveries, but the closing tone was heavy.

Bonds were easy. Total sales, par value, $956,000. United States 2s declined 1-4 per cent on call.

WHEAT AND CORN FIRM; OATS WEAK

BLACK RUST REPORTS BRING ADVANCE IN WHEAT—CORN SHORTS SEEK COVER PROVISIONS UP.

CHICAGO, July 18.—The advance in wheat market occurred about the middle of the session and was brought about by several reports from Minneapolis which claimed that reliable authority had discovered black rust on samples of wheat sent from the Dakotas and Minnesota. These advices caused an active demand for wheat and several of the leading commission houses bought freely. The selling was mostly by cash interests.

Later, however, offerings became more liberal, the continued large primary receipts having a tendency to encourage selling and a large part of the early gain was lost. Early in the day the market was bullish because of the comparatively firm tone of the Liverpool market, prices showing only a slight decline there against a decline of more than one cent here yesterday. The market closed firm. September opened 1-8 higher at 77 3-4, sold off to 77 5-8@3-4 and then advanced to 78 3-4@7-8. Final quotations were at 78 1-8@1-4.

Early in the day the corn market was inclined to be weak on selling induced by predictions of wet weather throughout the corn belt. The advance in wheat, however, caused considerable covering by the shorts and resulted in a firm tone. The market closed firm. September opened unchanged to 1-8 lower at 51 3-8 to 1-2, sold up to 52@1-8 and closed at 51 7-8.

Oats were weak all day because of weather which was very favorable to the new crop. September opened unchanged to 1-8 lower at 34 5-8 to 3-4, sold between 34 3-8@1-2 and 34 7-8 and closed at 34 5-8@3-4.

Trading in provisions was small but the market was firm because of an early advance in the price of live hogs. At the close September pork was up 15 at $17.45. Lard was 2 1-2 higher at $9.05. Ribs were 2 1-2@5 higher at $9.40@$9.42 1-2.

Surely there's nothing else keeps the old as young and makes the weak as strong as this grand tonic medicine. Dyspepsia, torpid liver, inflamed kidneys or chronic constipation are unknown after taking Electric Bitters a reasonable time. Guaranteed by the Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co. Price 50c.

NO FALSE CLAIMS

The proprietors of Foley's Honey and Tar do not advertise this as a "sure cure for consumption." They do not claim it will cure this dread complaint in advanced cases, but do positively assert that it will cure in the earlier stages and never fails to give comfort and relief in the worst cases. Foley's Honey and Tar is without doubt the greatest throat and lung remedy. Refuse substitutes. For sale by Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co.
